National Security/ Emergency Preparedness Criteria (Check all that Apply):

Upon reviewing the Government Emergency Telecommunications Service (GETS) information provided and based on our emergency telecommunications requirements, our organization requests Financial and Banking Information Infrastructure Committee (FBIIC) sponsorship to the GETS program based upon the following national security/ emergency preparedness criteria:

- a) Crisis response and coordination activities required to maintain financial stability in your region or community.
- b) Resumption and maintenance of economic activity that poses a systemic risk to the financial sector in your region or community.
- c) The timely completion of outstanding financial transactions and necessary offsetting transactions that must be completed to avoid a major impact to the regional economic stability.
- d) Other. (Please explain)

We acknowledge that our organization:

- 1) May not reference the GETS card in our marketing activities or for other competitive advantage purposes.
- 2) Must establish a GETS point of contact (POC) and alternate for administering GETS and to ensure accountability for each card issued to it.
- 3) Will withdraw the GETS card from any individual that no longer fulfills the designated role or function that meets the criteria.

We further understand that cards issued under this sponsorship program may be cancelled at the discretion of the Office of Emergency Communications (Department of Homeland Security) or FBIIC.
